Dear Internet Marketer,

[Company name removed] is reaching out to a select group of professionals such as you to become a beta tester for a revolutionary, state-of-the-art software program that has already resulted in tens of thousands in profits. In other words, we're giving you the opportunity to vastly increase your profit margins, at no cost whatsoever.

This offer is completely free, contingent upon the completion of a one-page feedback sheet at the end of testing. Click the link below, which will allow you to quickly and painlessly register. You'll not only be offering valuable feedback, you'll begin the process of taking your business to the next level!

To be honest, I've lost hundreds of thousands of dollars over the past five years, trying to implement a variety of tools and methods using sheer trial and error. It wasn't until a fortuitous event that I realized what all top internet marketers have up their sleeves; powerful software that allows them to know every move their competition makes.

The fact of the matter is that in today's business environment, competition is fierce. And advertisers in this cutthroat arena stand a greater chance of success when they know what the competition is up to.

[Company name removed] gives you the opportunity to do just that. [Company name removed] is a competitive intelligence tool that allows you to search for banners and paid ads on Facebook, and to gain valuable insight about each advertiser such as demographics, offers, keywords, and more, and can be implemented in over 20 different countries. Data acquired can then be sorted by ad frequency, number of days running, or by display date. All of which can help you to obtain better results instantly.

Advertisers using this information have an advantage over those who are "playing in the dark," so to speak. Your competitors can see what you're doing, but can you see what they're doing? If not, [company name removed] will give you the help you need to always remain one step ahead.

I received a lot of pushback when I make it known that I was going to release this powerful tool to the public. After all, why not just keep it to myself and watch the money roll in? Why on earth would I want to share my secret? The answer is simple: I'm passionate about learning, but I'm even more passionate about watching others succeed. After utilizing this proprietary tool, I quickly realized its immense power, and I understood how much it could benefit other internet marketers. I've become a success, and I want you to experience the same.

What previous customers are saying about [company name removed]:

"Before using [company name removed] I was losing a lot of money. I would break even or profit a little at best, but was losing more money than I was making. Since using [company name removed] I've been able to view competitors within the marketplace which allows me to create great marketing campaigns based on proven campaigns. Being able to see what profitable ads and marketing campaigns are working is genius. Thanks [company name removed]!" - John

"I've been making money online for years now. With affiliate offers and with my own web properties. I haven't used any type of competition spy tools before. Then one of my affiliate managers mentioned [company name removed]. He said he was quietly using [company name removed] to bank money off social ads and affiliate marketing. So, I immediately signed up to [company name removed] and started launching campaigns. The benefit to me is that [company name removed] allows me to see campaigns already working now and I can launch similar campaigns or offers. This drastically cuts down on the failure rates of my new web properties and affiliate campaigns." - Chris

What it boils down to is this; for a few minutes of your time, you can implement this proven software into your arsenal, and start reaping the rewards, all at not cost to you! Click the link below to get started!
